City Ponders Budget Cuts In Grueling 8-Hour Meet

In a tedious eight-hour session Wednesday, councilmen grilled heads of the four major departments to determine where cuts could best be made in the whopping $1,463,000 city budget.

No specific reductions were made, as councilmen considered item by item in the ponderous financial prospectus for 1957-58.

Faced with a June 24 deadline to adopt a preliminary budget, the council scheduled another extraordinary session next Thursday at 7:30 p.m., at which time sweeping cuts will probably be made in all departments in an effort to balance income and outgo. The June 24 budget adoption session will probably be adjourned to Friday, June 28, at 4 p.m.

Under budget studied Wednesday by the council, it would be impossible to hold the present tax rate of $1.48 per $100 assessed valuation.

Even with severe reductions in all departments, it was still council opinion that some new forms of revenue would be necessary to finance adequate municipal services.

Among some of the drastic measures "thrown out, but not necessarily advocated" by Mayor Joseph Verducci were:

Elimination of the 25 cents the city now pays towards individual garbage bills.

Raising water rates 10 per cent.

Increasing business licenses from $18 to $50.

Raising licenses for major auto dealers.

Franchise charge for Pacific Telephone & Telegraph.

Increasing tax or permit fee for all coin-operated machines, such as pinballs, juke boxes, pay television.

Increasing parking fines to $2.

Creation of a street lighting maintenance district to remove this service from city jurisdiction.

Adoption of a continuous water meter installation service charge that would be added to the bi-monthly water bill.

Raising general fund tax rate from 76 cents to the $1 limit.

"Might Balance"

"With some of these revenues, plus cuts in the budget, we might be able to balance

DE BERNARDI FOILED ON BUDGET REJECTION

A motion to return the $1,463,000 city budget to the city manager for balancing and to stop immediately all hiring of new personnel fell short of approval at Monday's council meeting.

In a surprise move, Councilman Micheal De Bernardi motioned that the budget be returned to Manager Howard Stites and cut down to last year's figure and that all hiring of new employees be discontinued in an effort to maintain the tax rate at 31.48 per $1.00.

The motion failed, 2-2, after an interim motion to table the porposal was also deadlocked at the same tally.

De Bernardi said that Stites and department heads should trim the budget down to a size where revenues meet expenditures— meaning a paring job of about $257,000. De Bernardi excluded the some $73,000 automatic wage increases, which he said could not be controlled. He proposed that the council could make its own cuts in various departments to offset the $73,000 figure.

Vickers Second

Councilman Sanford Vickers offered a second to De Bernardi's motion.

Mayor Joseph Verducci argued that the council had not yet considered the budget in full and that it would be unfair to order the sweeping reduction without some justification.

Councilman Del Wilson moved that the matter be tabled, receiving a second from Verducci. After a 2-2 stalemate on this motion, De Bernardi and Vickers voting against it, roll call vote was held on the budget measure, with Wilson and Verducci opposing.

Councilman Paul Hupf was absent.

In other action Monday, the council:

1. Held that status of City Treasurer Paul Selmi had not changed, and that he would not receive some three months in back salary until he had formally notified the finance director of his return to work.

2. Told Ray Brulez, representative of Old Glory Post 2044, VFW, that a special meeting would be held with the recreation commission to determine when veterans organizations would be allowed to establish meeting headquarters in the community center. Public Works Director Otis Calhoun said meeting rooms would be ready within 120 days after bids are received.

3. Recommended crosswalks at 398 and 306 Chester streets and told representatives of Callan Heights that results of a pedestrian traffic survey in that area would be announced in a week.

Ask New Park

4. Acknowledged petition of Westlake residents for a new park in that area and announced that a meeting will be held with developers George McKeon and Henry Doelger in a week or two to designate recreation sites.

5. Granted Stites vacation leave from July 7-21 to attend Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

6. Directed Calhoun to draw up specifications preparatory to calling bids on painting of house numbers on curbs, after re-

Personnel Board Weighs 10% Hike For Muni Workers

An across-the-board wage increase of 10 per cent that would cost an estimated $70,000 a year extra in salaries was proposed to the personnel board last Thursday by representative of Daly City's more than 100 municipal employees.

Daly City Employees Union 919, represented by business agent Harry Crocker, Barbara Galindo and Joe Intaschi, presented requests for the 10 per cent hike and three weeks paid vacation after five years service.

Proposals by the Daly City Police and Firemen's association included the 10 per cent and three-weeks vacation, but were much more extensive. Fire captain Frank Specht, president, and Officer Les Bastedo appeared for the association.

Among fire and policemen's demands were: four weeks vacation with pay after 15 years; 11 full paid holidays a year; reduction of work week from 65 to 60 hours; a maximum of 120 days accumulated sick leave, accrued on the basis of 10 days a year for 12 years; a city financed life insurance plan; $75 a year clothing allowance; time and a half pay or the equivalent in time off for overtime; equalization of salaries sothat no employee would receive less pay than an employee with less years service.

The board, meeting at full strength for the first time in some eight months with addition of new members Albert Polonsky and Melford Battye, took no action on the proposal but will schedule a special meeting on the requests at a later date.

Get Bids On New Water Tank

Five bids for supplying the city with a 50,000 gallon temporary reservoir to replace the wine cistern that had to be hauled away were taken under submission by the council Monday.

The alternate bids, calling for either steel or wooden tanks, ranged from $4895 to $11,380, not including surfacing interior and exterior, constructing temporary foundation, relocating reservoir to another site and construction of a roof over the tank.

Prices for the foundation ranged from $622 to $1596. Figures for re-locating the reservoir started at $755 and went to a high of $2430. Surfacing interior and exterior was called for only on the steel tanks.

The tank is to be used as a temporary water storage facility while the 1,600,000 gallon Westlake reservour damaged in the quake, is being repaired. A 30,000 gallon wooden tank installed there earlier failed to meet purity standards and was removed.

Bids were turned over to City Manager Howard Stites and Public Works Director Otis Calhoun for recommendation.

Other bids also taken under study were for supplying the city with a ½ ton pick-up truck. Three firms bid, with proposals ranging from $1881 to $2930.51.

TRUSTEE'S HUBBY SAYS 'INNOCENT'

Salesman John E. Wimberly, husband of a Jefferson Elementary School District trustee, was granted a trial by jury after he pleaded not guilty Tuesday in municipal court to a charge of drunk driving in Westlake on May 25.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci set July 31 for the jury trial.

Wimberly, 892 North Mayfair, was booked after Officer Lionel Hess chased his vehicle, "weaving and without headlights on."

When asked to leave the car, Wimberly almost fell down. Hess reported. A sobriety test a few minutes later confirmed that Wimberly was intoxicated, police said.

Taxpayers, Parochials Air Views

Faced by opposition from many factions, Jefferson Elementary School District trustees Wednesday night again were greeted with mounting protests on their recent condemnation move to acquire Henry Doelger's 18-acre Westlake basin site.

Giving everyone in the record crowd a chance to be heard, the board climaxed the staggering session, four and a half hours in length, with the indication that some sort of compromise and more public hearings will be necessary.

Two Factions

Two strong groups, the North San Mateo County Taxpayers League and the Westlake Catholic Men and Women's clubs, aired protests Wednesday night, asking the board to rescind the condemnation action in the hope that a solution satisfactory to all concerned might be worked out.

Mrs. Katherine Mullen, board chairman, expressed the board's opinion that "we are giving this problem every consideration."

Trustees, due to meet with the city council June 27, intend to bring the matter to a public meeting on that date, urging all groups to attend.

Despite the additional protests Wednesday, however, the board made no commitment to change its stand.

Only trustee Joseph Lewkowitz "reversed" his vote, changing it to "no" on condemnation instead of his original abstention. Trustees Michael Callan and Lewkowitz refused to vote for condemnation two weeks ago. But Lewkowitz, "informed" by Hartley Appleton and Mullen that by ab-

Assessment Fight Mapped Here

A door-to-door petition campaign to secure individual protests against the county's recent property re-assessments here will be held next Thursday throughout Daly City.

Strategy for the drive was mapped Monday and firmed at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The plans calls for division of the city into seven districts, each of which will be headed by an individual or civic group. The district "captains" will recruit workers to circulate the petitions, which will be presented in protest to county supervisors in July when they sit as the board of equalization.

The petition will contain a re-print of the council's resolution passed Monday, which branded the re-assessmants an "unfair burden" on north county residents.

Mayor Joseph Verducci announced the city breakdown for the petition campaign as follows: Don Lesher, Gambetta south to unincorporated area, east of Mission; Westlake Improvement association, all of Westlake; Don Williams, Broadmoor; Thomas Noonan, Sterling Park; Roy Foster, Daly City Improvement club, from Wellington to Gambetta; Dino Donati, Edward Dennis, Tony Gaggero, area between Mission and Junipero Serra, bounded by Knowles and 87th street; F. J. Wickersham and VFW, Crocker Tract, Hillcrest.

Those in attendance Tuesday were: R. W. Kerr, Andrew Baffico, Charles Santuccio, Westlake Improvement association; Lesher, Hillside Improvement association; Wickersham, Veteran Firemen; Stanley Brown, Garden Village; Williams, Broadmoor Property Owners association; Blaine Glendenning VFW; Donati, Ella Streeter, Nat Gaggero; Councilmen Del Wilson, Sanford Vickers, Verducci.

The group will hold another briefing session Tuesday night prior to the petition drive.

St. Francis Heights

SUBDIVIDERS, BOARD SETTLE SITE 'FEUD'

Jefferson Elementary School District's stormy quest for three school sites in the proposed St. Francis Heights subdivision finally appears headed for a quick settlement today.

"Clarifying the record," the developers, Chris and George McKeon of Zita Corporation, repeated to trustees Wednesday night that "we will provide the sites as we said before since we have always been willing to cooperate."

Blasts 'Rumors'

Chris McKeon, eldest member of the firm, denied "rumors about us not being cooperative and this map business" in an hour-long explantion to the board, as an overflow crowd of 150 listened intently.

The McKeons, charging that the district's present plan would take 68 of our acres instead of the 30 you originally asked," finally got the board to settle for the 30 acres—for two K-6 schools and the M. Pauline Brown site. The latter, under condemnation, will be sold to the district for $10,000 under the appraisal price, Chris McKeon stated, citing an example of "our willingness to be cooperative."

Location of an intermediate school, seventh and eighth grades, probably will be moved of the proposed subdivision, under the apparent compromise reached Wednesday night.

The McKeons challenged the district's placing the school on their property, claiming that the three school sites already planned there were enough "to be fair to us as developers."

Triangle Basis

Assistant superintendent David Shapiro showed graphically that the intermediate school within the subdivision conformed to the state formula for "triangular" location here of intermediate schools. He cited Colma intermediate and Benjamin Franklin as the other points on the triangle.

The McKeon's protests were based on two assertions:

The district was asking too much acreage for sites, which would make the developers' home-building plans unfeasible, and that the Zita Corporation

Protest against an "arbitrary and capricious" property re-assessment program in northern San Mateo county snowballed Monday night as some 80 residents attended a Westlake battle rally, then descended en masse on the council chambers to enlist the city's aid.

As the city council pledged all-out cooperation, City Attorney Frank Blum outlined methods to fight the re-assessment on land and improvements, which will effect taxes of virtually every Daly City resident.

Crux of the protest is the fact that the county has re-appraised property here and will place the new figures on the 1957-58 assessment roll, while southern portions of the county may not be re-appraised for as long as three to four years. Cass Norton, president and spokesman for the Westlake Improvement association, which has spear-headed the drive, claims this is discriminatory, since north county residents will be bearing a higher tax burden for several years longer than their southern neighbors.

The council unanimously passed a resolution censuring the "unfair burden" and urged that the method of re-assessment be rejected until a program is developed which calls for uniform assessments throughout the country.

Strategy Told

Strategy was outlined by Blum, who said each property owner should protest as an individual during the county board of supervisors sessions as board of equalization in July.

Then, he explained if the assements are still placed on the roles, one or more property owner might file a taxpayers suit against the assessment on the basis of "arbitrary and capricious' action."

He urged that as many homeowners as possible attend the board of supervisors equalization sessions in person.

Meanwhile, the Westlake homeowners promised a force of volunteers to circulate petitions to individual homeowners who wish to protest the assessment hike.

Hectic Meet For Council: Eject Citizen; Bars Rattle

What started out as a sedate meeting of the city council Monday developed into near-bedlam, through a trio of unrelated events.

A small audience of about eight people witnessed the first outburst, as Mayor Joseph Verducci tossed tavern owner George Kirchhubel out of the council chambers for the umpteenth time during the past year. Kirchhubel badgered the council for not displaying demand warrants for bills outside the chambers. As the debate waxed, the mayor was unable to outshout the argumentative Kirchnubel and he finally asked Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy to escort him out.

"It's a pleasure, said Kirchhubel. I need a little fresh air."

The serenity of the governmental halls was interrupted again a few minutes later when two prisoners in the city hall's basement jail gave vent to their anger over being arrested on drunk charges and shook the jail doors to a farethee-well.

Shortly thereafter, the sparsely populated chambers were packed as some 80 persons attending an assessment protest rally swarmed in, after finishing their meeting ahead of schedule. It was the largest crowd to attend a meeting this year.

D'minican Unit Drops Basin Site

The Henry Doelger company told THE RECORD that the option on the Westlake basin property held by the Dominican College of San Rafael and intended for a high school site has been rescinded.

The Dominican Sisters, it was announced, decided to return the option to buy the 18.7 acre site to avoid becoming involved in the recent dispute between Jefferson Elementary school trustees and the Doelger company.

A spokesman for the Dominicans said the action in dropping the basin option should "in no way reflect on either the Doelger company or the school district."

Still Interested

Instead, it was stated, the Dominican Sisters wish it be known they are still interested in buying a 10-acre site in the Westlake basin for a high school if some settlement can be reached and a "normal relationship" can be re-established.

The controversy arose over a desire of the school district to purchase the entire basin acreage as a site for a school and administration headquarters. Negotiations bogged down when the Doelger company indicated the Dominican Sisters held two options for the entire 18.7 acres, although probably half of this land could be acquired by the district for a school.

Additionally, the Doelger company offered a small parcel west of Lake Merced boulevard as an administrative building site.

Rebukes Trustee

Charges of "bad faith" were made by trustee Hartley Appleton against the Doelger company and denied by Henry Doelger, president.

Doelger today said:

"It is a shame that the controversy over the Westlake basin property has resulted in the Dominican College being placed in the middle.

"I cannot blame them for

Manfred Hanson

Manfred B. Hanson, 49, an x-ray technician of 241 Los Banos avenue, died Sunday in Community hospital, apparently from injuries suffered in a fall in front of a local motel Thursday morning.

According to police, Hanson at first refused medical attention when they were summoned by the motel manager.

Coroner's officials and police are still investigating the exact cause of death.

A veteran of World War II, Hanson is survived by a brother, Einar, of Burlingame. His parents were the late John and Delia Hanson of Daly City.

Private services were conducted Tuesday as Lasswell's. Burial was in Golden Gate National cemetery.

Two weeks ago in Logan, Utah, Richard Cole Horsley of Daly City will take as his bride Miss Deanna Riggs of Wellsville, Utah, in a ceremony at Logan Temple, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

PHYLLIS ADAMS

Westlaker Is 'Miss Daly City'

Pulchritudinous Phyllis Adams, 17-year-old Balboa High senior and Westlake lass, is Miss Daly City of 1957.

The blond honey from 94 Brooklawn avenue decisioned four other lovelies Friday night in the Chamber of Commerce's third annual contest at War Memorial building. Unfortunately, a crowd of only 35 people viewed the coronation.

Judging was close, and no wonder. Peter J. Markovich, hustling Chamberman, said this year's candidates were the "prettiest of all."

Conquest by Miss Adams, who graduates this week, entitles her to wear Daly City's banner in the San Mateo County "Fiesta Dream Girl Contest," set July 18. A win there means a trip to Sacramento for the "Maid of California" competition at the state fair.

Phyllis has all the prerequisites. She's 100 per cent for poise, personality and physique.

Her dad, Dave, an insurance man, moved the family here not quite two years ago. If ever a DC girl is a threat for state-wide beauty recognition, Phyllis is the one. Mom Fay is mighty hopeful.

The new Miss Daly City's measurements are 35-23-36.

She plans to work about a year before enrolling at San Francisco State.

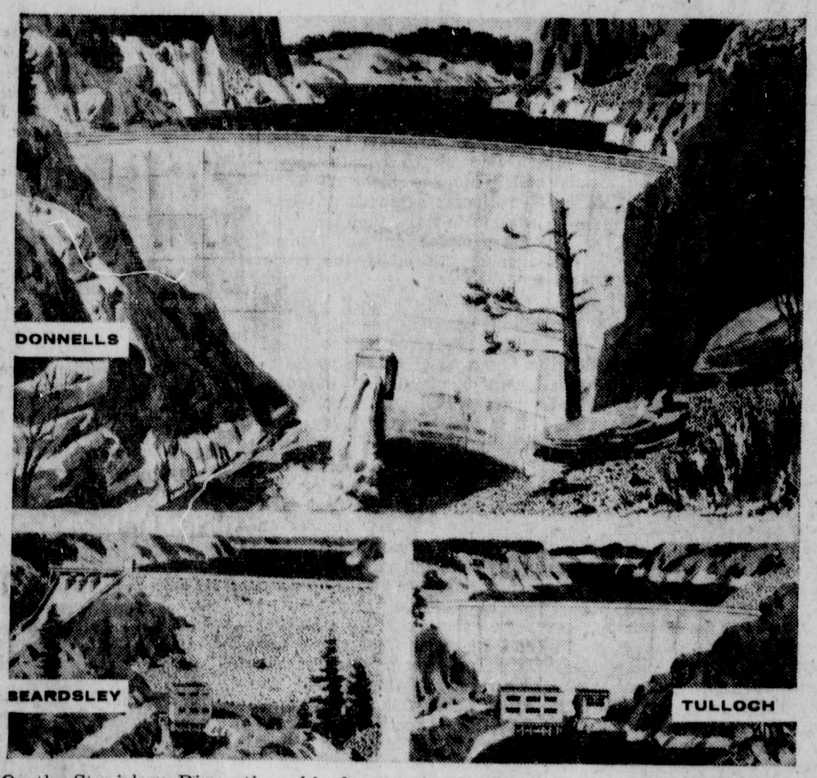
The Chamber decorated Phyllis with a huge trophy and a bouquet of blushing red roses.

Runnersup getting smaller trophies were: Delia A. Patron, 17, 529 San Diego; Geraldine Ann Tower, 17, 291 Los Gatos; Carol Jean Ann Landgren, 18, 283 Irvington, and Barbara Jo Fisher, 17, 751 Thornhill drive.

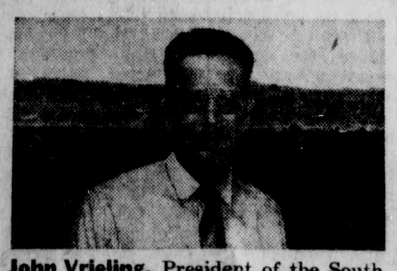
RADIANT Phyllis Adams, 17, of 94 Brooklawn avenue, Friday night was crowned "Miss Daly City of 1957." Meeting the tape at 35-23-36, she graduates this week from San Francisco's Balboa High. Next title she'll seek is "Fiesta Dream Girl" in county competition next month. RECORD photo

NEW TRI-DAM

How P. G. & E. works with farmers in the great Tri-Dam Project on the Stanislaus River... to bring more water and electricity to California



On the Stanislaus River, three big dams are nearing completion—a joint project of the Oakdale and South San Joaquin Irrigation Districts, to be dedicated June 15. The Tri-Dam Project means a lot of new irrigation water for the Oakdale, Manteca, Ripon, Escalon and Riverbank areas. On its way to the fields, the water will turn electric generators, producing enough electricity to supply 145,000 homes. P.G. and E. will distribute the power, paying the Irrigation Districts $115,000,000 for it over a 45-year contract period. This revenue pays for the three dams and powerhouses. Thus a vast new source of irrigation water is provided FREE. And P. G. and E. gets another source of power to serve the growing needs of its customers. P. G. and E. has business arrangements like this with a number of other water development projects in Northern and Central California. And everyone benefits.



John Vrieling, President of the South San Joaquin Irrigation District, says this about the P. G. and E. cooperative plan: "The contract with P. G. and E. will give sufficient revenue to meet all the construction, operating and maintenance costs of the project. So the additional water made available to the land owners is free at the canal. And I believe it's a good arrangement for P. G. and E., too, because it provides the Company with another source of power. It's a good deal all around."

Everyone benefits from these time tested joint-development water projects. They help assure plenty of power for growing California, help you live better electrically.

Gas and Electricity are cheap in California!

County Lists June Sites For Free Polio Clinics

Public health and welfare department of San Mateo County today gave THE RECORD a complete schedule of the county's free polio immunization clinics for the month of June.

According to Dr. Harlin L. Wynns, superintendent of the health division, clinic attendance has been falling off.

"However, we know that there are many unimmunized persons, especially in the teenage and young adult group," he remarked. "We now have a good supply of vaccine which should be used to protect these individuals with two doses before the peak of the polio season."

This Saturday, June 15, a free county clinic will be set up at Los Cerritos school, West Orange avenue and C street, South San Francisco. On June 22, a clinic will be established at Half Moon Bay high school, corner of Kelly avenue and Church street, on the Coastside. On June 29, a clinic is scheduled at the county health center, 225 37th avenue, San Mateo. These clinices run from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

In addition, the county health department offers polio shots on Wednesdays, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 5 to 7:30 p.m., at the county health center.

For further information on polio clinics, call the county health department, FI 1-1361.

JESD Principals, 3 Vice Principals Get Salary Hikes

Ten Jefferson Elementary School District principals and three teaching vice principals were granted 1957-58 pay hikes last night, amounting to an increase of $8565 over the current budget.

The boosts range from $475 to a high of $830. Included was Mrs. Louine Bostwick, curriculum coordinator, who will assume principalship of Thornton and the new Vista Grande school.

New scale for principals calls for a minimum of $7350 and a maximum $9550. For the teaching vice principals, the scale is based on the teachers' salary schedule plus one additional step.

Approval of the principals' committee proposal for the district's full-time vice principal at Colma intermediate was delayed for further study.

Hi Speed Chase Jails Two Here, Wrecks Cop Car

A high speed chase resulted in the arrest of two San Francisco motorcyclists and the wreck of a Daly City patrol car here Monday.

Released on $1000 bail each were James Schiele, 19, and Richard Kalpakoff, 26, both warehousemen.

First spotted in Westlake, the pair were halted at Brunswick and Wellington after three officers gave pursuit. One of them, Officer Steve Steen, rammed his vehicle into a parked auto when he skidded around a corner in Westlake. Steen escaped unhurt, but his car was badly damaged.

The pair were cited for driving without licenses, reckless driving, speeding, and refusal to sign citations. Kalpakoff also was booked for possession of a switchblade knife.

Legislative Trio Report To People In Mateo Meet

San Mateo County's three legislators will be featured in a special "legislative report" to be held in conjunction with the June 19 luncheon meeting of the Manufacturers Association of San Mateo County, President Kermit L. Williams announced today.

Scheduled to participate in the report on legislation passed at the 1957 session of the state legislature are Senator Richard J. Dolwig of Atherton, Assemwood City and Assemblyman blyman Carl Britschgi of Red-Louis Francis of San Mateo.

4 'People,' 4 Addresses —1 Arrest

"Student" Rodolfo Alvarado, 24, of San Francisco, also known by three other names, three different ages, two varying addresses and another "occupation," will have until June 28 to figure out an explanation for the judge as to reason for his presence near a Mission street motel at 4:30 a.m. Saturday.

Alvarado was arrested by Broadmoor police after he was discovered loitering near a motel at 7700 Mission.

Police said he displayed a drivers' license not his own, gave four names, three addresses, four birthdates and alternately debated whether his occupation was student or unemployed.

Finally establishing his identity, though on a highly contingent basis, police booked him for vagrancy and displaying a license not his own.

Appearing Tuesday in municipal court, Alvarado made $50 ball and had his case set over to June 28.

In other municipal court action Tuesday, Dale Flora of Colma, charged with statutory rape of a 13-year-old runaway San Francisco girl May 21, had his case continued 30 days.

Thomas Pruett pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunk driving on Junipero Serra on May 23 and had trial set for June 25.

RE-ASSESSMENTS ARE UNJUST

San Mateo county supervisors have a real opportunity to disprove the widespread contention that the north county always takes the hindmost, paying more taxes for less services.

As a result of a county re-appraisal program launched here recently, Daly City residents will have their land assessments (and some improvements) raised, with accompanying tax increases.

The assessor's office explains that the re-appraisal will be county-wide and that the work here is the first leg of a five-year program that will eventually reach the county's southern extremities.

That, precisely, is the complaint of Daly City residents. Why is the program starting here instead of in the south county? Why will Daly City and other portions of the north county suffer the extra tax burden three or four years longer than their southern neighbors.

An equitable solution would be to complete the entire county re-appraisal program before placing the new figures on the assessment roll.

Then all portions of the county would pay equal taxes on equal assessments.

City council, Westlake Improvement association, and other civic and veterans organizations are rallying a city-wide petition protest to be presented supervisors.

Combined efforts of all these groups should provide the protest movement with considerable momentum.

Public officials are by nature of their vocation an impressionable lot.

Daly City's protest campaign will undoubtedly sway some supervisors' opinions.

But if the supervisors do not bend to the weight of the electorate, they should still come to the conclusion that the re-assessment program is unjust.

D. A. SHOULD READ FINE PRINT

Assemblymen Louis Francis and Carl Britschgi made an announcement this week that was appreciated by this newspaper and hundreds of other interested citizens and groups.

An amendment to the Brown act which would have allowed secret governmental meetings on administrative reports and property acquisition has been withdrawn by the two San Mateo county assemblymen, co-authors of the legislation.

While apparently the battle to protect the intent of the Brown act in making all public actions public information is at a cease-fire for the moment, we now question legality of action taken by the Jefferson Elementary School district last year.

Trustees last fall adopted a district policy to bar the press from negotiations on school site acquisition.

Since an amendment to allow closed meetings on property matters has been thwarted, by inference the policy of the board of trustees is contrary to the Brown act and state law.

Trustees would do well to re-consult the district attorney and review their previous action in adopting this policy.

We feel their "closed meeting" policy on site acquisition is illegal. And if the district attorney says otherwise, perhaps he had better read sections 54957 and 54958 of the government code.

Letters To The Editor

School Patron Says Voters Not Given All Facts

Dear Sir:

Your editorial "Voters Blue Chip Investment" might better have been styled "Voters Demand Depression" or "Voters Refuse to uphold the Laws." At no point in the advertising were the people given all the facts.

The 1954-1955 Annual Report of the Financial Transactions Concerning School Districts of California, page xi, states:

"The total gross assessed valuation used as a basis for district taxation on the four levels was $37,473,445,961, more than twice the net assessed valuation in the State because of the overlapping taxing power on the four levels. The unduplicated valuation state-wide was reported as $18,227,939,299. This is the sum of the valuation reported for the elementary and unified districts."

1955-56 Report

The 1955-56 report, page xi, reads:

"The total gross assessed valuation * * * on the four levels was $41,507,229,655, more than twice the net assessed valuation * * *. The unduplicated valuation * * * was $19,991,923,874. * * *"

On the unduplicated assessed valuation of $48,997,358 in 1954, the people were paying interest on $6,546,175 bonds for elementary and high school buildings. In 1955 the valuation was $58,315,375 with bonded indebtedness of $7,977,616.42. (See the same reports for 1954-55 and 1955-56) 30% of the amounts paid for repayments went for interest on the tax-free bonds. If the total valuation will be $64,000,000 in June of 1957 and the bonded indebtedness increases by $1,500,000 school taxes will go out of sight and the children will still be on double-sessions.

Classroom Need

So far, the law still reads: "In adopting this chapter the Legislature considers that the great need in school construction is for classrooms for the education of the pupils of the Public School System. It is the intent of the Legislature to first satisfy this primary need to the greatest extent possible before providing additional educational facilities, regardless of how desirable such additional facilities may be. To the end that school classrooms may be made available at once and to all school districts in need of such classrooms, provisions for other needed school facilities is necessarily subordinated."

By reading the law you will see that the children are kept on double sessions because penalties are provided as a means of keeping districts from authorizing construction of "other needed school facilities." When they are authorized, extra taxes are assessed for 40 years and no part of the costs of such facilities is forgiven.

Senate Approves Francis' Measure To Speed Schools

A bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County has been passed by the Senate to aid school construction at elementary, junior and senior high schools and junior colleges and to help eliminate double and triple sessions. It has now been sent to the Governor Goodwin Knight for his signature.

The present law permits apportionments of state school building aid fund to eligible school districts based on the amount required to construct the building and the average daily attendance of students, depending on the grade level of the school district. No school district can be granted school construction aid unless the students are already in attendance or expected to enroll within two years immediately preceding the school district's estimates. As a result, school districts have been unable to keep up with school construction programs in areas with rapid growth of population.

Francis said, "Under this bill, the school districts on the elementary level will be permitted to project attendance to the third, rather than the second fiscal year in which the application is made for purposes of state school building aid. It also provides that estimates of average daily attendance shall be based on the number of family dwellings under construction, as well as the number of children residing in the district."

"With respect to the junior and senior high schools and junior colleges, the formula provides for computing increase allowable area of school building construction based on a four-yea. estimate of school student enrollment," he added.

The Francis bill requires approval of the California Department of Education for the allocation of estimated attendance at each school for the purpose of apportionment of state school building aid.

Dominican Unit Drops Basin Site

wanting to avoid such a situation. And I certainly hope that this will result in a more level-headed approach to negotiations by the Jefferson Elementary trustees."

Doelger previously indicated he felt the school board's action in starting condemnation of the Westlake basin was "premature."

Price Stands

Concering earlier plans to build luxury homes in the basin area, Doelger said his company hasn't taken any recent action. He indicated the per-acre price of $20,000 made in the Dominican option on the basin property still stands.

Doelger cited a letter from the Dominican College's attorney, Charles O'Gara, asking for a title search and indicating an architectural engineering firm would begin site work shortly as proof the college's action to drop the basin option was a serious step.

Taxpayers, Parochials Air Views

staining "you went along with the 3-0 vote," wanted his stand fully clear.

Park Proposal

An eleventh hour motion by Lewkowitz that the district should investigate Westlake park for a school site and "perhaps leave the part of the basin open for a parochial high school," met with approval of the board, especially Callan. The latter stated, "There definitely is a need for some solution, and I suggest we take it up with the council on June 27."

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, interested in investigating the Westlake park suggestion, traveled to Sacramento with assistant superintendent David Shapiro Thursday to seek state advice on the possibility.

Weibel indicated, however, that the state probably would require that title to Westlake park property be turned over to the district, and that it would involve a difficult situation as far as the city is concerned.

Three Speakers

Francis P. Pacelli, chairman of the North San Mateo County Taxpayers League committee, had three speakers address the board with "sound arguments against the basin site for the elementary district."

Pacelli, launching the presentation, claimed that his group feels the acquisition of the property by the JESD would cause another "dilemma" of bunching schools in the area north of Alemany. He reminded about the Westlake and Olympia schools in that area. Second, he charged the proposed site and administrative office would not be centrally located to serve the population. And he declared that the Stanford survey, used by the district in projecting enrollment for state school building funds, "does not mention the number of students parochial schools are educating here."

Parochial Aspect

Next arose Dick Dwyer, representing Westlake Catholic Men and Women's clubs. "We beg of you to reconsider this matter," he previewed. Dwyer cited current parochial enrollment, about 1200 covering Our Lady of Mercy, Our Lady of Perpetual Help and Holy Angels, and the heavy Catholic population in the district, notably in the Westlake area.

On the release of basin options by the Dominican Sisters, Dwyer said, "The Dominicans would like to be sure they're welcome here, and not involved in controversy."

Dwyer pointed out that a Dominican high school in the basin area would serve a minimum of 400 students.

"You (the board) have a duty to the taxpayers, above all," he continued. And he reminded that parochial schools mean a saving on taxes.

Green Reports

Paul Green, former Daly City mayor, was next.

He "enlightened" trustees that in 1950 when the former board sought the basin site (then 32 acres) for a school, the state division of school planning and architecture turned them down because the property "didn't meet the field act."

Green pointed out the sewage, drainage and flood "woes" on the site, also hitting the expense of the site "for an impoverished district such as yours."

On the administration building proposed there by trustees, Green repeated that it would not be centrally located. "The previous board disposed of a suitable administrative site a few years ago on the old Vista Grande property. Strangely, it now belongs to Mr. Ciampi, the district's architect.

Trustee Hartley Appleton interrupted to state that the district has to depend on state formula for school sites "because our money is coming from them."

Thomas Noonan, another speaker, replied that "the state officials, one in particular, are not so reliable." Green joined in, "the state merely has a policy and no law on such matters."

"Frankly," Noonan went on, "I'm glad the Dominican Sisters gave up the options. We saw the results of the earthquake."

Economy?

"The district is faced with spending $1 million for a basin site alone. Is this economy for an impoverished district," Noonan questioned.

Noonan continued, "you should put off this condemnation until all citizens are heard. If you don't, this project will be a colossal folly for all to remember."

The Westlake park suggestion found Appleton stating, "the district would have to have the title to the property, I believe, under state law. The city would have to relinquish all rights to it."

Green had a quick reply. "This can't be done. It would take an election. And who would approve it?"

Noonan asked about other areas for a site. Appleton informed him that "we've tried to negotiate with the golf courses." Callan pointed out that the expense would be excessive, reminding that by taking one hole, the whole course would be ruined. "That's the way these people look at it," he said.

Suit Possible

Noonan suggested that the people should get together and file suit to bring the assessed value of some of the golf courses up to take the burden off the rest of the taxpayers.

Green's remarks on the basin site "problems" brought district engineer Joseph Kaplan to his feet.

"The site is suitable for construction, according to the state, based on our tests. The sewage and storm drainage factors are negligible since the sewage plant and a concrete structure have been installed."

Kaplan added that the minimum height of the basin land is 12 feet higher than the water level on Lake Merced. "It would take an extreme flood to peril the site from this standpoint," he maintained.

Kaplan answered "earthquake factor" queries by stating that" our inspection of the basin immediately after the recent quake showed no visual signs of disturbance. And the U. S. Geological survey said the road failure nearby had no bearing on the basin property."

commissioner, to lead the drive against the assessment increase and the suggestion won resounding audience approval.

Verducci appointed Norton, Don Williams, Broadmoor Property Owners association director, and Al Race, Hillside Improvement association president, to serve as co-chairmen and directed City Manager Howard Stites to contact all other civic organizations for their assistance.

The group was scheduled to meet again last night to lay final plans for the assessment protest campaign.

City Ponders Budget Cuts

the budget," the mayor opined. "I'm not advocating these. I just want a report on how much revenue they would bring in."

Councilman Del Wilson had his ideas on new sources of income. They were: charge municipal court rent for city hall; levy revenue stamp charge on sale of property; raise Broadmoor Police district fee for use of Daly City radio from $100 a month to $200 to $400; levy a tax on unsecured personal property; require permits for street work by private firms.

Also mentioned as an aside by both Verducci and Wilson was the oft-debated one-cent sales tax.

Personnel Big Issue

Big issue in all four of the departments under discussion — police, fire, recreation and public works — was addition of new personnel. In each budget, personnel accounted for close to 90 per cent of the total budget and almost all of the departments' increments.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi is asking four more officers above last year's 25 quota, for a total personnel cost of $216,660

The chief said that without the extra men it would be "impossible" to maintain four watches.

Petrocchi pointed out that the department handled "probably 20 per cent more calls and arrests" than neighboring South San Francisco, a city of 35,000 population.

The recreation and parks department was the only category in which councilmen did not spend most of their time on requested personnel inincreases. Important issue in this department was the request for nearly $51,000 for capital improvements, including some $39,500 for completion of the War Memorial community center.

Less Men, More Hours

Director Dee Van Nest asked less men in the recreation department, 19, as against last year's 24, but explained that all personnel would be employed for more hours.

In the park department Van Nest requested 11 employees, one above his previous budget.

Allocation request for personnel in the park department was $48,552, $25,000 in the recreation division.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy pleaded for an addition of five firemen to his crew, which would bring total to 29.

In his department, of the total $17,708 budget request, $158,208 is for salaries.

Volunteers Cut

Faced with a reduced budget of $3000 for the volunteer fire department, as against $8000 last year, Kennedy said addition of the full-time firemen was a "must." He said if any cuts were made from the paid firemen request, he would ask additional money for volunteers.

Asked by Wilson it was "at all possible" to get along with the same allocation of 24 men, the fire chief said "the people deserve an adequate full-time department."

Also cited by Stites and Kennedy was the fact that the board of fireu nderwriters will conduct a survey here soon to determine classification for insurance rates. Inadequate protection, Stites said, could eliminate chances of a lower rate.

An emphatic "no" was issued by Councilman Paul Hupf on the machinery and equipment allotment, which Stites said called for getting the fire chief a car "out of the Chevrolet and Ford class."

Stites said that in most California cities fire and police chiefs are given higher-priced personal vehicles as a "prestige" factor.

"There's no need for putting prestige on a car," Hupf stated. "We're giving the department heads better recompense for their duties. It's so much poppycock to talk about prestige cars." Hupf questioned turning in the fire chief's present 1951 car "under any circumstances."

Kennedy said that if he did not get the five extra men he requested, "I would like to sit in again with the council to balance out the volunteer program."

Public Works department (engineering, street, building inspection), accounted for a sizeable $156,568, of which $141,408 is proposed for salaries.

Sought for the building inspector office are three persons, equal to last year's staff, at cost of $17,520.

Engineering salaries accounted for the lion's share of the overall department, as PW director Otis Calhoun asked $50,472 for salaries, compared to some $30,000 that will be spent this year for personal services.

Another Engineer

Chief items in personal services are addition of another full-time registered engineer at salary of $7920. Eight personnel are sought, same as last year, but many of the positions have been up-graded in salary classification to attract qualified personnel, Calhoun explained.

Verducci, pointing out that Daly City was currently in a building slump, questioned advisability of hiring another registered engineer.

The works director declared, however, that "we have to have somebody in the office to direct our draftsmen. I'm burdened with too much detail."

Stites declared that the city was realizing considerable income from the engineering department which did not exist when the city hired an outside engineer on a fee basis.

Verducci still asked for "justification for these things," in calling for more detailed report from Calhoun.

Three street department budget included request for one more worker, bringing total to 15 for a personal services allocation of $73,416. Total for the street department was $91,716.

Subdivisions, Board Settle Site 'Feud'

was not interested in providing schools for children outside their subdivision "when other unused areas are available."

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel answered that "these unused areas might not be developed for many years, you people are going to build soon, and we've got to have the school sites now."

Cites Record

Chris McKeon earlier charged that "in 27 instances of building school sites in various districts, we've never run up against a problem like this." He went on to read at least seven letters from local school districts lauding his firm for cooperation on school sites.

Trustee Hartley Appleton, who previously denied that he asked the McKeons for a price per acre and merely wanted "a formula to arrive at a price," was less vociferous after the McKeons presented their case.

Agreement was reached for immediate negotiations on the three sites, with the developers to present their recommendations according to road, sewage and grading plans.

Suit Ends

The McKeons' partition suit with Michael Callan, a delaying action that held up subdivision development nine months, ago, was settled Wednesday. Callan will get the 21 acres, and Zita officials, hoping to firm the school site business within a month, will proceed on the subdivision.

George McKeon, earlier said that if the district insisted on taking 68 acres instead of the 30, it would represent 50 percent of his firm's useable acres, "an impossible situation." He gave a breakdown on how the subdivision's original 334 acres were reduced to "about 135" for homes after the state, Doelger, Callan, the schools, and undevelopable portions were considered.

Map Clarified

Chris McKeon also settled the "map controversy" in which Appleton and the administration hinted that it was peculiar that state officials "had seen an almost identical map" from McKeon before district officials presented their map on proposed school sites as drawn by engineer Julius Castelan.

The McKeons claimed the map state officials saw from their firm belonged to them and denied the alleged "tieup" with Castelan.

Castelan in an earlier meeting, blasted Appleton in particular, after the latter hinted that the "identical" maps posed some doubt for the board.

Represented by an attorney Wednesday night, Castelan was not challenged again, after Chris McKeon declared that "you (the board) have done Mr. Castelan a great injustice."

Trustees then accepted Castelan's engineering work as completed, approving final payment on his contract.

The board Wednesday also approved a resolution of necessity for the new General Pershing site in older Daly City.

This is the first step towards condemnation. Approximately 42 homeowners are involved in the reported $500,000 transaction.

Double session, the sign of the booming times, expire with the school term this Friday for Jefferson and Westmoor High students, after a year of hectic but productive shuffling by administrators and teachers at the overtaxed Jefferson plant.

But the split-day schedule will not leave the local scene this fall, since at least 11 classrooms, grades one through six, figure to be on double sessions in the Jefferson Elementary school district.

H. Z. Weibel, JESD superintendent, indicated the double sessions this fall undoubtedly will terminate early in 1958 with the expected completion of two new schools, Vista Mar in Westlake and Vista Grande in the older section of Daly City. Both are under construction.

Increase Cited

At present, the district's 10 schools serve 5276 children. Projections this fall call for an enrollment of approximately 5700 youngsters.

Kindergarten enrollment in September may reach about 850. It is anticipated that two more kindergarten sessions must be added to bring the total to 30 kindergarten sessions. Fifteen teachers will supervise this activity alone, on the triple session basis.

Assignment of children to double sessions will be announced just before opening of school, Weibel said. The district notifys all parents by mail where their children will be located.

Fair Assignment

"Determination of which children will be required to go on double session will be based on the fairest and most convenient plan for these students," Weibel reported. "Probably the children who will move into the new schools will be affected first. Once the new plants are ready, these youngsters will be placed where they belong."

Faced with a need of at least 23 more classrooms north of Alemany this September and a minimum of 36 new classrooms in that section by next 1960, the district is up against mounting problems.

To ease one immediate phase of the situation, Weibel said it may be necessary to move some seventh grade classes from Colma intermediate to Benjamin Franklin this September.

Colma Graduation

The district will graduate 392 students in ceremonies this Friday night at Colma school, starting at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Katherine Mullen, JESD board chairman, will present the diplomas. Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz also will present his annual award for outstanding citizenship, determined by Colma students and teachers.

On the high school level, Jefferson and Westmoor both anticipate student populations of 1200 at each plant this September. Classrooms of the new school in outer Westlake are scheduled to be delivered to the district by July 15, more than

Laura Coleman, Bill Robb In Vow Exchange At OLPH

Vows were exchanged Saturday evening at Our Lady Of Perpetual Help church by Laura Coleman of Daly City and William Robb of San Francisco.

The bride is the sister-in-law of the late Barney Hilton, former police chief here. Her son, John, is an officer with the Daly City department. Laura has five grandchildren.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's daughter, Mrs. William Cosmon, of Daly City.

The new Mrs. Robb wore a light blue lace and silk gown, white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Her matron Mrs. Helen Villalba, a longtime friend, was attractively attired in a navy blue silk dress, with accompanying white accessories and corsage.

Raymond Schultz was best man.

The Robbs will return to Daly City after a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe.

Jeff Muffs PAL Title Tilt, 6-4

M-A, Mates Hand Tapia Tough Loss

Menlo - Atherton had the championship punch Friday and wrapped up the 1957 PAL baseball title with a 6-4 win over Jefferson in their third playoff game.

Sloppy support for junior righthander Paul Tapia, both at the plate and afield, meant the difference in the clincher at Orange park in South City.

Tapia, starting for exhausted Ed Leveroni, pitched his finest game of the year, retiring the first 10 men to face him, holding the heavy-sticking SPAL kings to seven hits, and in general, carrying his ball club in a game that required a team effort.

Miller Hero

Larry Miller, one of three good M-A hurlers, heroed the thing with a cool relief job. Miller came on with the bags jammed and one out in the sixth. He fanned Mike Wedlake, then got Tapia on a fly to left, stranding the three Indians.

Steve Mezzera's lads got the tying runs on the sacks in the seventh, but again Miller put out the fire.

Jeff had a 1-0 lead in the third frame as Leroy Franzoia singled to drive in Wedlake. Mike had got on via an error.

Clean-up man Jerry Reed put the Bears ahead for keeps in the fourth with a 400-foot, three-run homer into center.

M-A picked up two more tallies in the sixth, thanks to a single and two consecutive "easy-fly" errors by centerfielder Tom Cloutier. Cloutier apparently was jinxed, since throughout the season his defensive work has left nothing to be desired.

Jeff got runs two and three in last of the sixth, mainly through Barry Haanen's double, a slashing single by Bill Strassburger, one batter hit by a pitch, plus a pair of walks off Dick Sanchez. Miller then doused the rally.

Gamble Pays

Mezzera, offering no apologies, gambled with Tapia. Leveroni had worked in the first two playoff games, losing the first in relief, 9-8, and winning the second, 3-2.

Tapia, however, proved an undeserving victim. There's always next year for Paul.

Lt. Robert Welnick Ends Oklahoma Duty

Reserve Second Lt. Robert G. Welnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Welnick, 6167 Mission street, recently was graduated from the field artillery officers basic course at the Artillery and Guided Missile Center, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Lieutenant Welnick is a 1956 graduate of the University of California.

HERE ARE two reasons the Daly City Drug team is one of the better sandlot nines in the area. Left is Mike O'Leary, eighth grader at Mission Dolores, who plays outfield and catcher. Pint-sized Mike Wall, same school and a Colma product, pitches and roams the outfield. The Drug kids play this Saturday and Sunday at Marchbanks, both games starting at 11 o'clock.

LEAGUE DEBUT

W'moor Gridders Could Surprise, Says Matisi

Coach Pete Matisi has his work cut out for him this fall when he introduces Westmoor High's varsity footballers to Peninsula Athletic League warfare.

After two weeks of sizing up prospects in spring training, the ex-USF fullback appeared satisfied.

"We know our first year in the league will be tough," he told THE RECORD. "But I think we may surprise a few people. Some pretty good boys are out for our squad."

T Tactics

In two years as head grid coach at Serra High in San Mateo, Matisi's T teams won 13 and lost only 5. Last season they took the Catholic League title. Pete will work his Westmoor hopefuls on the same formation.

The Ram offense will focus on quarterback Dave Simmons, 162, a kid who can throw and uses his head under pressure. Pressing for signal-calling duty will be Larry Harper, 175, and "lots of potential." Harper, 6-2, Jim Heick, 160, two boys with also looms a top prospect up front at center.

Matisi's backfield corps should be paced by swift Leo Wyreck, 162, Gary Pederson, 170, Rich Hottal, 160, powerful Larry Schoenfeldt, 6-3 and 195, and Poul Kephart, 150. To name a few.

Backfield defenders showing promise include Mark Fledderjohn, 185, John White, 170, and Kephart.

The Westmoor line, gossed by Will Stensland and Floyd Gonnella, has speed and heft.

With Paul Giomi, 170, cocaptain last year, Steve Robinson, 160, and Cliff Cushing, 150, heading the list, the Ram guard posts are stringly manned. Giomi was a first-year standout. Cushing was a mainstay ways for the frosh-sophs. And Robinson has natural ability for the rough stuff.

Bob Simi, 185, and Jim Lansing, 215, lead the tackle candidates. Each moves quickly with maximum power. Rich Landi, 190, and Ron Nagy, 195, are good possibilities for tackle duty.

Sid Swanson, 180, and Ray West, 180, give Matisi two double duty targets at the end posts. Sid is 6 even and Ray stands 6-1, light but speedy.

Center hopefuls include Marty Knedel, a rugged 184, Joe Sarro, 190, Hank Shain, 185, Fred West, 150, Bill McCann, 175, and Harper.

Competition for starting duty will be wide open, Matisi maintained.

The Rams are booked for eight games this fall. These include six PAL scraps, three of them at Westmoor.

The Schedule:

Sept. 27	Willow Glen
Oct. 5	Capuchino
Oct. 11	*Jefferson
Oct. 18	*San Mateo
Nov. 1	Burlingame

BROADMOOR POLICE BUDGET APPROVED

A $34,859 budget, some $1300 under last year's, was tentatively approved by Broadmoor Police commission Tuesday.

Commissioners said they did not think reduction of their district's assessed valuation through withdrawal of certain Daly City property would be serious enough to warrant a tax increase over the present rate of 38 cents per $100.

Final budget hearing will be held on July 9.

LINHARES SHARES C OF C GOLF TITLE

Driving range owner George Studinger canned a 30-foot putt on the 18th hole Thursday to share low gross honors with Daly City policeman Art Linhares in the third annual Chamber of Commerce golf tournament at Lake Merced.

Studinger and Linhares each had 71s.

Defending champion Ed Castagnetto was one stroke off the pace with a 72.

A total of 143 hopefuls turned out for the event, a record figure. H. H. Smith won the hole-in-one contest with a shot 1' 4" from the pin. Doelger executive B. Poncetta was runner-up with a ball 1'7" from the cup.

Flight winners included:

First flight—Tommy Zitelli, 83-18—65; N. Cole, 82-15—67.

Second flight—Gene Blackstone, 88-24—64; Elton McGraw, 93-29—64.

Third flight—J. Hertog, 97-36—61; John Putkey, 96-33—63; Don Roberts, 108-45—63.

Fourth flight—Gino Gizzi, 124-69—55; Lyal Ingersoll, 137-79—58.

Insurance man Fred Martin claimed the booby prize, firing a fat 189 for the 18.

DC P.A.L. Directors Meet Again

Board of directors of the fledgling Daly City Police Athletic League will meet again this Saturday morning in City Hall to firm the unit's charter and plans for a widespread program serving the community's youth.

Speaker will be W. M. Carroza of Menlo Park, one of the founders of the renowned Police Athletic League of New York City. Last Saturday's scheduled DCPAL session was called off because Carroza was unavailable.

Charter from the unit will be forwarded soon to the state for official approval. Directors plan to launch a community-wide drive to get residents behind the year-round program.

The 20-member board of directors is presided over by Police Chief Roland A. Petrocchi.

Temporary officers are John Coleman, president; Charles L. Terry, secretary, and Robert A. Crooker, treasurer. All are members of the police department.

Other prominent civic leaders on the board of directors are:

Father Joseph Garrity, Our Lady of Perpetual Help; Father Richard Power, Our Lady of Mercy; Rev. Roy Milam, Westlake Baptist church; Rev. Allen J. Downey, St. Martin's Episcopal church; Rev. Richard Friedline, Vista Grande Avenue Christian church; Rabbi Leo J. Stillpass, Temple Judea; Dr. Tomas Whelpley, Grace Presbyterian church.

Joseph Lewkowitz, elementary school trustee and Lions Club representative; Frank Blum, city attorney; Thomas J. Stanghellini, Italian-American Federation; Dee R. Van Nest, city director of parks and recreation; Harold P. Bradshaw, Marchbanks Publications; Tony Giammona, Westmoor High physical education department director; Mike Orlich, Jefferson High P. E. Department director; Henry Doelger, Westlake developer, and Thomas L. Bocci Jr., municipal judge.

Persons interested in the DCPAL are invited to attend Saturday's meeting. It starts at 10 a.m. in the council chambers.

Block W Banquet Fizzles: Athletes Too Lacadaisical

Scheduled Block W banquet for Westmoor High athletes failed to materialize Tuesday night in the Jefferson High cafeteria.

According to Tony Giammona, Westmoor physical education department director, the Block W boys "waited too long to start ticket sales for the event."

Response and enthusiasm for the fete were so poor, Giammona said, that the cancellation was necessary.

A crowd of almost 200 players, coaches and parents was on hand two weeks ago for the Block J dinner for Jefferson athletes.

Daly City Drug Nine Roars Past OLPH Kids, 15-3

Daly City Drug baseballers stretched their long win string Saturday at Jeff High by blasting out a 15-3 decision over OLPH.

Barry Krohn, working seven innings, got the victory. Terry Christman, also touched for two hits, hurled the final two innings.

Big blows for the losers were Bill Whalen's homer and a triple by Gil Moreno.

The Druggists' 12-hit barrage featured triples by Tom McHugh and Georgie Claus, and Mike Rovai's double. Claus had four-for-six at the plate, while Krohn and Billy Hix collected two hits apiece.

Sunday's tilt with the Portola Braves was rained out. The makeup will be played at Marchbanks this Sunday at 11 o'clock. Milano Inn will invade the same diamond this Saturday to test the Drug kids. First pitch is 11 o'clock.

4 Jeff Seniors, North PAL Stars Suffer 7-6 Loss

Four Jefferson seniors performed Saturday in the third annual PAL All-Star game at Stanford, won by the South PAL nine, 7-6, in 10 innings.

Ed Leveroni, Indian righthander, opened for the North and went out after three innings with his team behind, 2-0. Bill Strassburger caught the first half of the game, going hitless.

Tom Cloutier started in center and had a single in two trips. Del Scott, fourth Indian, relieved in right field, and his single in the ninth sparked the five-run, game-tying rally for the North.

Marv Mecklenburg, San Jose's outstanding lefty, was awarded the "outstanding player" trophy by the Peninsula Sportswriters Association. Lee Moench, Burlingame southpaw, was next in the balloting.

The South now leads in the annual series, 2-1.

Meyer To Depart For JC Grid Job

Frank "Dutch" Meyer departs the Daly City sports scene this week to assume his new post as head football coach at Hancock Junior College in Santa Maria.

Meyer, a graduate of University of Nebraska, thus completes one year of service in the Westmoor High physical education department. Before coming here he was on the staff at South San Francisco High.

A popular individual, Meyer will be replaced this fall at Westmoor by Pete Matisi, formerly of USF and Serra High in San Mateo.

Aragona Wins Debut Nips Sarto AC, 7-6

Pitching debut of Bill Aragona last Sunday saw the Podesta Nursery righthander posting a 7-6, nine-inning win over Sarto AC.

Aragona allowed seven hits and issued only two walks.

John Souza and Bud Downey paced the winners at the plate with a pair of hits each. Rich Morales and Ed Wynn did well defensively.

Managed by Cornell Holmes, the Podestans soon will play in the Class C Twilight League. Aragona's triumph was the fifth in a row for the Podesta nine.

'BIGGEST IN LOCAL HISTORY'

City-Schools Summer Rec Slate Opens Here Monday

Next Monday marks the beginning of the community's biggest summer recreation program — a 10 week project — geared to give almost 8,000 youngsters in Daly City and surrounding areas the most versatile schedule in local history.

A big outdoor concert will kick off the summer program Sunday afternoon at Westlake Park. Featured will be the Daly City municipal band under the baton of George Brenner. Music starts at 2 o'clock.

THE GOLFING Daly City cop, Art Linhares, shared low gross honors in the third annual Chamber of Commerce tournament at Lake Merced Thursday, firing a 71 to deadlock with George Studinger.

The summer rec slate sponsored jointly by the city recreation department and Jefferson Elementary School district, with the solid cooperation of James Snell PTA (represented by Mike Orlich), and property owners association from Broadmoor, Sterling Park and Garden Village.

The program, featuring myriad of supervised sports will be conducted at the five city parks, War Memorial building, seven elementary schools, plus a special slate offered at Colma community center.

Timetables

Hours during which supervised activities will be offered at the abovementioned parks and schools are 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. War Memorial building also open from 9:30 to 5, will be open on these days during the evening, from 7 to 9. Westlake Park is the only park open under supervision on Sundays because of the heavy load there.

Parks involved in the summer program designed by Dee Van Nest, city parks and recreation director, are Frankford, Lincoln, Edgewood, Marchbanks and Westlake.

School playgrounds used as rec centers will be Crocker, Colma, Jefferson elementary, Garden Village, Benjamin Franklin, Westlake and Olympia.

Van Nest and Bob Leibe, recreation supervisor, have a staff of 25 competent and well screened rec leaders to direct activities at the individual sites.

Parents Notified

The recreation department Wednesday gave all students in the elementary school district information sheets to take home to parents. For additional details, persons should call the recreation office, PL 5-0850, extension 18.

Adults aren't being overlooked, either.

A sample of the activities offered at the parks and playgrounds:

Archery, boxing and tumbling will begin the week of July 1. A men's softball league is underway at Westlake park. Horseshoe pits for adults are located at Marchbanks park. Volleyball and badminton sessions for adults are conducted each Friday evening at War Memorial, from 7 to 10. And tennis courts are available on a first-come-first-served basis at Colma school and Jefferson High.

Basketball Loop

A six-team North County Basketball league begins June 26, with two Daly City teams planned, Westmoor and Jefferson.

Baseball instructions for juniors is scheduled Tuesday through Friday at Marchbanks from 9 to noon. A junior baseball league, players 15 years and under, will be charted for Saturdays and Sundays at Marchbanks.

McGRATH FORECAST

Tribe Has Good Backs, But Line Big Problem

Joe McGrath, Jeff varsity football coach, has the horses. But he'll need some strong gate-busters if his Indians are to break loose this fall in the Peninsula Athletic League race.

A strong backfield, but an inexperienced line.

That was the capsule outlook after McGrath viewed his flock in spring training.

Injuries Decide

Last season the locals were fairly loaded. But injuries, more than average in number, gave Jeff a 1-6-1 season mark and sixth place in the NPAL.

Joe lost 23 seniors via graduation. Ten of these huskies were first stringers in '56.

On the bright side, McGrath's backfield looks good, optimistically.

Back for starting duty is Paul Tapia, who ran the club last year and looms as one of the two best passers in the PAL. Other, of course, is Keith Mattos, the prep version of Johnny Lujack.

Chief Gunner

Stronger and more confident, Tapia holds the key. A good tosser for range and in tight moments, Paul will trigger all Tribe maneuvers.

McGrath's scatbacks, who should run with the best of them, will be Sonny Martinez, the 100-yard dash specialist, and Ron Molina, a second speedster with fine expectations. Martinez was racked up midway through the last campaign and limped to the finish. With both M's in top shape, Tapia won't have any trouble on quick openers and downfield shots to his halves.

Fullback is well stocked. Pat Lena, a bruising 185 pounder who can move, and Herb Dirks, reservist in '56, will share the job. Lena likes the tough going and Dirks can sprint swiftly from the slot.

Line Doubtful

The problem is up front. Except for ends, McGrath has lots of question marks. Gary Ryan, 155, and tall Bob Berry, 165, two good subs last time, will see yoeman duty at the terminals.

The other forward wall berths are open to a bunch of untested hopefuls.

Chief tackle candidates are Walt Schnetz (no experience), 160, John Crane, 155, L. Gobourne, 150, and John Finley, 190.

Best looking guard possibles are Dwayne Cook, 175, and Pete Rogerson, 185, definite comers faced with rugged assignments.

George Crist, a 180 pounder, heads the crop for center duty.

Air Attack

In view of Jeff's light and untried status up front, it appears McGrath will rely heavily on Tapia's abilities in the air. The Tribe should be quick afoot and dangerous upstairs.

McGrath has one condition in his favor. The schedule calls for six home games. Last year, the double-sessioned Indians played but one game before the home folks. The rest of the time on the road the rooting section was all but empty.
